HEALTHY KIDS Storytime Trail

Once upon a time ...

... there was a nature trail that meandered through tall trees, beside a beautiful river. Children travelled along the trail with their parents, grandparents and friends to read amazing stories. They ran eagerly from one reading post to the next to see how the tales would continue. Along the way, they listened to the birds, breathed in the fresh air and got stronger each day. The children went to bed peacefully at night, tired from their exercise in the great outdoors and dreamed of the wonderful stories that now filled their heads. The adults also slept well for they had taken a break from sidewalks and screens and enjoyed nature the way they did when they were kids.

And, they lived happily ever active.
